Getting Good Cancels

When I review comments about covers the most common comment is about cancellations of stamps. Too often they are unclear or even missing altogether.

On the other hand, I receive many covers where members have worked to make sure that I receive distinctive special cancels. Those are special prizes.

It is extra work but a major favor to your fellow members if you can work with postal workers to insure that your covers are collectible work of art. We cannot control everything which happens as mail transits the world, but we should give it our maximum effort.

Remember to rate the quality of the covers which you receive. If we all send better covers we all will receive better covers.
