<h2>Obligations and Privileges of an OM—Part I</h2> <h3>By Renate Thompson</h3>
Most of us know the benefits that we have as OMs, including that we are able to place CMs in the fourth slot on circuits so that we can obtain nice covers from members in countries we collect. But we should also consider some obligations that our position as an OM brings with it. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Prepare excellent covers, as attractive as you would like to receive yourself. 2. Report any change of address, resignation, etc. 	that you receive in the mail right away to headquarters, so that this information can be incorporated into the next membership list. 3. It has been suggested that an active OM issue at least ten circuits a month. Most of us issue many, many more, but circumstances may force an OM to issue none or fewer circuits for personal reasons. This does not remove this OM automatically from our active list but it may be advisable to inform headquarters and	explain your current situation. 4. All OMs, since the foundation of the CCCC, have been obligated to purchase their circuit forms from headquarters. There are several reasons for this rule and although it provides some hardship for OMs in certain countries, this rule must not be violated. Part II will appear in the next issue.
