Meet A Member Mr. Wm Jack Birchall

Mr. William Jack Birchall resides in New Zealand, also known as Aotearoa, the Land of the Long White Cloud. New Zealand is a group of islands in the South Pacific and is about the same size as Great Britain or Japan with a population of just over 4 million people. About 40% of the land area is uninhabitable being very mountainous or unstable due to volcanic activity. Jack Birchall was originally called William but his parents began calling him Jack after he was frequently called Bill. Jack was born in Dunedin in the far south of New Zealand in January, 1921.

During World War II Jack joined the Air Force for training as a pilot and later served almost four years overseas gradually circling the world. Before the war Jack had been trained as an accountant in a NZ based wholesale pharmaceutical company. In 1965 a business transfer resulted in a move to Auckland where he switched to being a buyer and eventually became manager of distribution for the lower South Island. The war over and back to civilian life, marriage, and started a family that resulted in five sons and a daughter.

Meet A Member - Continued from Page 1 Jack started collecting stamps as a boy, but for many years later with the war and then family and a busy work life, his collecting made little progress. He has encouraged most of his family to start collecting mainly to help them with their education of the world. After retirement Jack became more interested in collecting stamps and started collecting stamps from the 42 countries he had visited. After joining CCCC and other clubs, many interesting stamps began arriving from other places and suddenly developed into a world-wide collector. Jack prefers used stamps but does add mint stamps if they are sent to him. Jack feels his collection continues to teach him much about the world. Jack does not specialize in any particular area and the finer points of philately are of little interest. Jack mentioned in his letter to me that the postage rates in New Zealand used to be calculated by weight, the minimum charge being based on so much postage for up to 10 grams (approx. 1/3 ounce) and additional to each 10 grams above that. That was changed to the minimum size being calculated more on envelope size and thickness. Now with the minimum rates Jack can use envelopes slightly larger and uses envelopes with a weight up to 200 grams (7 ounces) and a thickness of 10 mm. This allows Jack to enclose many extras without additional postage. He adds brochures and other information about New Zealand. Jack and his wife Elsie are also enjoy gardening but most of it is now in containers. With the exception of one son that lives in New York, all of his family lives just about hour away from their home.
